

Monitoring Probationary Employees:

Course Description:

This session will provide supervisors and managers with an in-depth overview of how to identify relevant strengths and weaknesses in conduct and work performance and to take any necessary actions. It also allows the supervisor to assess how well the new employee is fitting into the role.